Panthers

The Panthers showed they were ready for the basketball season after going against the John F. Kennedy High Islanders.

The Panthers breezed passed the Islanders in the first half until the Islanders picked up the pace.

Kyle Watanabe was able to drive to the hoop to score some layups and teammate Justin Lizama managed some quick steals and some buckets to boost the Islanders up.

But the Islanders found themselves working hard with the Panthers Mel Romero constantly stacking up buckets for the team to end the half leading 38-20. Romero continue to dominate the third quarter.

Romero said it was all about being hard and aggressive. He said that it's all about reading the gaps during the game.

"I was giving what the defense what giving me and I'm just going to score the bucket," he said.

JFK's Lizama, however, took as many opportunities as possible to make steals and score.

Lizama tried to lead JFK to at least a close game, but the Panthers continued to widen the gap and won 74-41.

Chemistry

Panthers head coach Reggie Guerrero said despite the win, the team is still figuring out the team's dynamic.

"We're still trying to create that cohesiveness, that chemistry, but you know I'm excited about this group of boys because they have a lot of fun together in class and now it's about putting it together in the basketball court," Guerrero said.

He added he'll be watching out for what their competitors in Independent Interscholastic Athletic Association of Guam High School Boys Basketball have in store for the upcoming season.

"You can't underestimate anybody. I mean St. John's is always tough, you got ND, ... I mean anybody in our league can take it," he said.

Romero echoed the positive chemistry he has with the team.

"We go the best chemistry in the league," he said. "We all play together, and
