		that the company does not currently offer any OTC or pharmacological products and that their focus is solely on dental products and biologics for dental applications. A. Eustaquio noted that the company had not yet received a certificate for the application. J. Sana mentioned that after reviewing the company's website, he found no relevant information that would fall under the Board's jurisdiction, particularly in relation to pharmacy. There was some confusion about the term "biologics," and A. Mariano indicated a need for further clarification regarding whether the company should apply as a distributor or if they intend to directly distribute to practitioners or other entities. J. Sana also suggested that more information was needed to determine if the company would need to apply as a manufacturer or could operate without a license, depending on their response.
