them in check.

In the 20th minute, JFK's Tariq Butler launched a deep pass into the box, sparking a scramble in front of the goal.

The pressure from Cruz forced a defensive misstep, and the ball deflected off an FD defender into the net for an own goal, giving JFK a 1-0 lead.

FD pushed back hard, with goalkeeper Steffen Surban making crucial saves, and the Friars coming close through several set-piece opportunities.

However, Cole Sablan extended JFK's lead with a well-taken goal in the first half, making it 2-0.

Despite FD's pressure, JFK's goalkeeper, Renzel Reburiano, kept FD at bay, preserving the 2-0 lead heading into halftime.

Second half

FD came out of halftime with a mission and found their rhythm early.

In the 43rd minute, Trestan Santos was fouled in the box, earning FD a penalty kick.

Santos stepped up to take the shot, confidently scoring to make it 2-1.

The momentum shifted as FD pushed for an equalizer but JFK's defense, anchored by Cole Sablan, Haruki Okamoto and Logan Wood held them firm.

As FD tried to advance, Landen Cruz, with the support of his teammates, stepped in to apply pressure, forcing them all the way back near their own goal.

With less than 10 minutes remaining, Kohen Diego fought hard in the midfield to keep possession and stop FD's advances.

FD pushed forward and appeared to score, but a flag was raised, nullifying the goal.

Despite some final attempts from FD, JFK's defense stood strong and the game ended with the Islanders securing a 2-1 victory.

Despite the win, Cruz and Reburiano both pointed to areas for improvement.

"We played well as a team, but there's a lot to work on, and we'll touch up on that in training tomorrow," Cruz said.

row," Cruz said.

Reburiano said the team "did okay."

"We could've scored more, but we got comfortable, and that led to mistakes," he added.

In terms of preparation for this long awaited match, Reburiano said "bonding, getting enough sleep, eating right, and training." and "a few hours before getting rest."

"We bond as a team, always together at school," he added. "That connection on and off the field is very important."

Cruz is looking ahead for the rest of the season.

"We need to lock in and fix both defense and offense," he said.

For Reburiano, it's about staying sharper and focused, and minimizing mistakes.

Flores

retain his title, with Flores finishing 7th overall.

No stranger to international competition, Flores made the National Finals at the Ultimate Ninja Athlete Association World Championships in Dallas, Texas this past July.

He was also selected to compete in the American Ninja Warrior Season 18 Competition with episodes scheduled to air spring of 2026.

Trained by Guam's own ninja warrior, Deren Perez, owner of Guam's first Ninja athlete gym, Guma I Sindalu Siha ninja gym, Flores attributes a lot of his success to the guidance and training from Perez.

"American Ninja Warrior and world championships would still be a dream if Deren didn't bring Ninja to Guam and guide me through the journey. I give my deepest thanks to him as my coach, my friend, and my island brother," Flores said.

Flores competed as a representative of the Guam Modern Pentathlon Federation, a new organization under the Guam National Olympic Committee. Obstacle course racing has replaced equestrian horseback riding in the modern pentathlon and will be fully integrated into the sport during the 2028 Olympics in Los Angeles.

The Guam Ninja Association, which falls under the Guam Modern Pentathlon Federation, has been integral in developing ninja and obstacle course racing world-class athletes.

"Our mission is to give our athletes the platform they deserve—to showcase their abilities and remind the world that Guam's talent runs deep and we are so proud of Rai," Guam

Modern Pentathlon Federation president Katrina Perez said.

Andrew Collings, president of Oceania Modern Pentathlon Confederation and World Pentathlon executive board member, said it was amazing to have Guam as the newest member of Oceania represented at the world championship.

"Rai competed incredibly well across all events and was a great ambassador for both Guam and Oceania. A highlight for me was to present him with a bronze medal for the U17 3000-meter. I look forward to seeing Rai compete in future events," Collings said.

Flores reflects on his journey. "Seeing who I've become, you wouldn't guess how much I sucked when I started about three years ago. However, if you see the effort we trained with in Deren's backyard, you would realize how much more we can achieve," he said.

He said having the new Guma I Sindalu Siha ninja gym can boost learning faster than ever before, and he hopes more kids, teenagers and adults see this opportunity and "give it a shot like I did."

"You never know where these paths can take you until you start," Flores added.
