I	Call to Order Meeting Chaired by A. Lape. Confirmation of Public Notice posted on Guam Meeting Portal and published in Guam PDN: January 29, 2025 and February 3, 2026 Election of Officers: Board members discussed whether an election of officers was necessary given that there were no new appointments to the Board. A. Lape noted that, unless any current member wished to change or step down from their position, there appeared to be no need to conduct an election. During discussion, J. Baleto inquired about efforts to recruit additional members and whether there had been any progress toward new appointments. A. Lape reported that although the Governor’s Office had previously contemplated a potential appointee, no eligible or viable candidates were currently available, as one individual who had expressed interest was ineligible due to serving on another board, and another potential candidate had a complaint filed against that person and no longer responded with interest. It was further noted for the record that both D. Calvo and A. Lape had exceeded the expiration of their second terms; however, pursuant to statutory provisions allowing members to remain in their roles until replaced, and in the absence of new appointments, resignations would result in a lack of quorum. After discussion, the Board voted unanimously to maintain the current officer positions and continue operating under the existing structure. Motion to Maintain Current Officer Positions as Status Quo: D. 	B. Statutes, Rules, and Forms 1. Update on Rules and Regulations A. Lape acknowledged prior discussions regarding the status of the proposed updates to the rules and regulations, noting that the remaining work involved final review and cleanup before submission to Public Health. She explained that recent personal circumstances affecting both her and D. Calvo had delayed progress. They intend to refocus their efforts and anticipate providing the updated draft within the next few months. It was further stated that advance notice would be given to B. Sablan as the submission nears completion.	A. Lape		Noted
VIII	Old Business A. Complaint: GBSW-CO-2024-002 D. IX	New Business A. Consideration of Applications for Initial Licensure:	GBSW	1124
	1. Geri Bough – LCSW A. Lape reviewed the application of G. Bough, who is currently licensed in Indiana and is seeking licensure in Guam in order to continue providing telehealth services to a client relocating to the island. It was noted that G. Bough holds a Master of Social Work degree and submitted her transcript; however, confirmation of supervised clinical hours signed by her supervisor was not found in the application materials. K. Lee explained that her former supervisor is no longer practicing, and she had been asked to provide license verification. A. Lape clarified that, until the rules and regulations are promulgated, it does not have the authority to endorse an out-of-state license, and therefore G. Bough must independently satisfy Guam's supervised hours requirement. It was recommended that she request from the Indiana licensing board a copy of the documentation she previously submitted for her licensure, and that the board transmit the records directly to the HPLO. Aside from the missing verification of supervised hours, no other deficiencies were identified, as her clearances, transcript, and continuing education units appeared to be in order. A. Lape agreed to await receipt of the required documentation before taking further action.			Awaiting Receipt of Required Documentations
	2. Alexa V. Tiro – LMSW A. Lape was not able to review. Tabled to Next Meeting: A. Lape.			Tabled to Next Meeting dominant position for the duration of the match.

The finals featured a highly anticipated matchup against a competitor who is widely regarded within the jiu jitsu community as the consensus number one athlete at his belt and weight class.

The match, against a 4-time Pan champion, was tightly contested, with neither competitor able to secure positional advance-

Cruz ultimately earned the victory on advantages, generated by multiple high-level submission attempts that kept the pressure on until the final seconds.

His momentum follows a dominant 2025 campaign in the ADCC no-gi circuit, where his performances earned him an early invitation to the prestigious ADCC Youth World Championships. The 2026 ADCC Youth Worlds will take place in Austin, Texas on Aug. 9.

Cruz trains out of Island Jiu Jitsu under "Professor Jay, Professor Jason, and Professor Migs," and represents Carbs Jiu Jitsu under "Professor Carbs, Professor Byron, and Professor John."

"None of this happens without my professors and my teammates," Cruz said. "They pour into me every single day, and I carry them with me onto the mat every time I compete."

Looking ahead, Cruz has set his sights on one of the sport's most prestigious achievements: the IBJJF Grand Slam.

The Grand Slam requires victories at the European Championships, the Brasileiros (Brazilian Championships), and the Pan Kids Championships, an accomplishment reached by only a small group of elite competitors worldwide.

Cruz is sponsored by Day by Day and Crowns Guam.

Today, the island does not currently have representation in the UFC, and only a limited number of athletes remain actively competing at the professional MMA level, according to Spike 22 Gym.

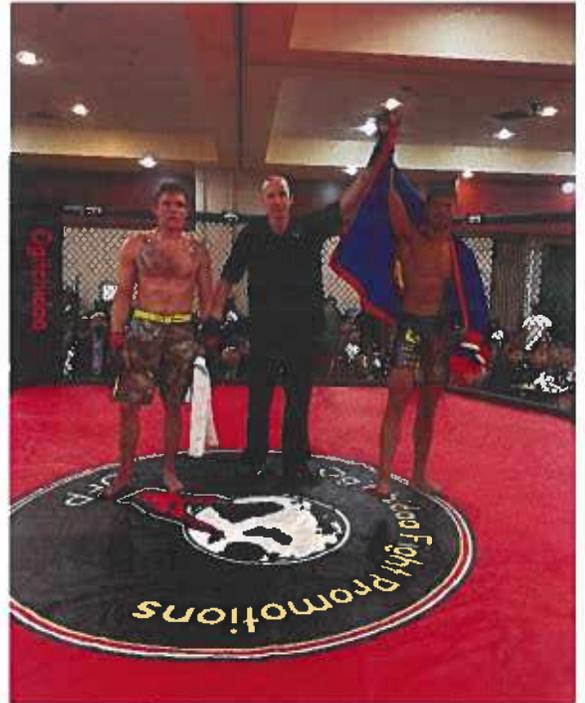

In this context, Mesa stands among the few continuing to represent Guam internationally—carrying both competitive ambition and island pride.

"As Mesa prepares to step into the cage on Saturday night, he does so with purpose, preparation, and the support of a community that continues to believe in Guam's fighting tradition," Spike 22 Gym said.

Preparations

In preparation for this international competition, Mesa completed the majority of his training camp at Spike Studio 22 alongside the Spike 22 team, sharpening his conditioning, tactical discipline, and striking precision, Spike 22 Gym said.

Mesa further refined his preparation through ses-
